Manager McNulty has happily secure the great feature picture "Boots an Saddles," a magnificent revival of th Saddles," a magnificent revival of the war days, with an absorbing story, carefully selected characters and minute details. This spiendid picture is by the same firm that made the famous "Stirring Days in Old Virginia," the picture that helped to hake the establishment of Breed theater as a permanent home of high chass motion pictures possible. This picture has been released from the manufacturers a very short time, and as a consequence is very new to the public and is remarkably free from the hackneyed action that is so prominent in most big moving pictures. This film is one blg moving pictures. This film is one rare interest and even now, at this rly stage, is in great demand, and e manager had great difficulty in securing it.

A very timely picture is also on the bill under the title of The Suffragette's Dream, which is highly amusing being high class comedy. Other big pictures are The Plano Teacher, dramatic: The Test, dramatic; Grandfather, dramatic, and Strong Draught, comedy.

When you enter it you hear a sound -a sound as of a mighty poem chanted. Listen long enough and you will learn that it is made up of the beating of human hearts, of the nameless mu sic of men's souls-that is, if you have ears. If you have eyes you will presently see the church itself-a looming mystery of many shapes and shadows, leaping sheer from floor to dome. The work of no ordinary builder! The pillars of it go up like the brawny trunks of heroes; the sweet human flesh of men and women is molded about its bulwarks; strong, impregnable; the faces of little children laugh out from every cornerstone; the terrible span and arches of it are the joined hands of comrades; and up in the heights and spaces there are inscribed the numberless musings of all the dreamers of the world. It is yet building, building and built upon. Sometimes the work goes forward in deep darkness sometimes in blinding light; now beneath the burden of unutterable anguish; now to the tune of great laughter and heroic shoutings like the sound of thunder. ### FOETRY.

THE GROCER'S DREAM,

Last evening I was talking With a grocer aged and gray, Who told me of a dream he had, I think 'twas Christmas day,

While snoozing in his office,
The vision came to view,
For he saw an angel enter,
Dressed in garments white and new.

Said the angel. 'Tm from Heaven, The Lord Just sent me down, To bring you up to glory.' And put on your golden crown,

"You've been a friend to everyone, And worked hard night and day. You've supported many thouhands. And from few received your pay. "So we want you up in glory, For you have labored hard. And the good Lord is preparing Your eternal, just reward."

Then the argel and the grocer Started up towards glory gata. But when passing close to Hade The angel murmured "Wait"

I have a place to show It's the hottest place in hell! Where the ones who never paid you In torment always dwell?

And, behold, the grocer saw there His old customers by the score, And grabbing up a chair and fan, He wished for nothing more;

But he was bound to sit and watch them.
As they'd sizzle, singe and burn, And his eyes would rest on debtors. Whichever way they'd turn.

Said the angel, "Come on grocer, There's the pearly gates to see," But the grocer only muttered, "This is heaven enough for me." —New England Grocer,
